Challenge

- Multiple stacks for different Lines-of-Business (Fixed, Mobile and Cable) without any synergies
- Different Customer Experience and business processes
- Inconsistent branding & products across all services
- Inability to create bundled and packaged products across all services
- Very long time to market for new products and services

The acquisition of companies lead to a siloed operation with different and separated IT solutions for the different lines-of-business without any synergies.

This resulted in a different customer experience and business processes with inconsistent branding & products across all services.

Creating new service propositions was difficult and prevented to leverage the acquisitions in a unified product portfolio. Even individual products and service offerings required a very long time to market because back-end IT systems do not provide the required flexibility to launch new commercial products quickly.

Solution

- Omni-channel, multi-play solution on top of existing legacy infrastructures, creating a single sales environment
- Federated commercial product catalog with automated integration into business back-end
- Bundling of new propositions across stacks using commercial catalog and unified Telesales / Retail front-end

Federated commercial product catalog supports all existing propositions and the ability to create bundle propositions across lines-of-business and promoting them across all channels.

The simple CPQ embedded in a flexible configurator and shopping cart enables to sell any service and product across all channels quickly and effectively.

Customer data is consolidated across all lines-of-business, and Eligibility for contract extensions, promotions and discounts can be derived from a complete view of the customer. This helps to accelerate the sales process, reduce errors and create a superior customer experience.

Benefits

- One consistent Sales process for all channels
- Ability to sell bundles and crossstack discounts
- Above 50% savings in Average Handling Time

Product Document and Technical Solution Page are benefits that have been achieved with the launch of the BlueMarble Commerce solution for a unified sales platform.
